

Minnesota Voters Alliance v. Mansky

Supreme Court to Rule: Can States Enforce a Dress Code to Vote?

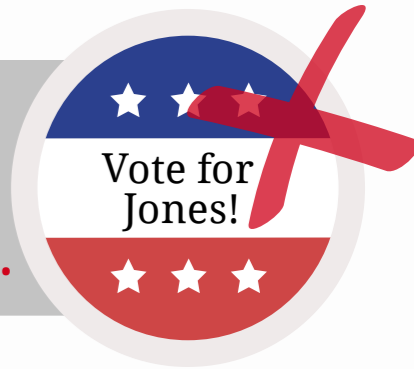

A vague state ban on any apparel with a "political insignia" worn at a polling place

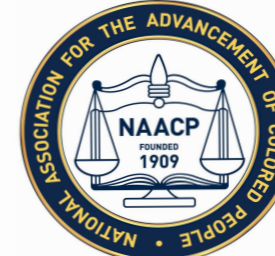

DONT TREAD ON ME

nearly prevented someone from voting, simply for wearing a T-shirt inspired by the Gadsden flag.

Campaign material can be banned at the polls. But Minnesota's law is very broad and covers speech unrelated to candidates and ballot issues.

COULD THESE LOGOS BE BANNED TOO?

Whether it's a Facebook post, bumper sticker, or a t-shirt,

AMERICANS WANT TO EXPRESS THEMSELVES.

Hopefully, the Supreme Court tells Minnesota to stop treading on voters' First Amendment rights.

INSTITUTE FOR FREE SPEECH